

Terms & Conditions

1. Website Development Services

RD Studio provides custom website design and development services based on the requirements discussed and approved by the client. The final website features, design, and functionality will be based on the agreed project scope.

2. Project Scope & Changes

Any additional features, pages, integrations, or major design changes requested after project approval may require additional charges and timeline adjustments.

Minor corrections related to the approved design will be handled during the revision period.

3. Payment Terms

- Project pricing and payment schedule will be discussed before starting the project.
- Work will begin after receiving the agreed advance payment.
- The remaining payment must be completed before final website delivery and deployment.
- Payments made for completed work are non-refundable.

4. Client Responsibilities

The client is responsible for providing:

- Website content (text, images, logos, business details)
- Required information for completing the project
- Timely feedback and approvals

Delays caused by missing information or delayed responses may affect the delivery timeline.

5. Delivery Timeline

Estimated delivery time depends on project complexity and client cooperation. Any delays caused by additional requirements or delayed approvals may extend the delivery date.

6. Revisions

The project includes a limited number of revisions as discussed during the agreement. Additional revisions or changes outside the agreed scope may incur extra charges.

7. Hosting & Domain

Domain registration, hosting, and third-party services are not included unless specifically mentioned.

Any third-party service costs are the responsibility of the client.

8. Maintenance & Support

Website development includes limited post-launch support for bug fixes.

After the included support period:

- Maintenance can be purchased through monthly plans.
- Updates, new features, and content changes may be charged separately.

RD Studio does not provide unlimited free maintenance after project completion.

9. Third-Party Services

Some websites may use third-party services such as payment gateways, email services, APIs, hosting providers, or analytics tools.

RD Studio is not responsible for downtime, policy changes, or failures caused by third-party providers.

10. Website Ownership

After full payment completion, the client receives ownership rights for the final website deliverables.

RD Studio may showcase completed projects in its portfolio unless the client requests otherwise.

11. Confidentiality

Client information and business details shared during development will be kept confidential and used only for project-related purposes.

12. Cancellation

If the client cancels the project after development has started, payments for completed work and resources used are non-refundable.

13. Limitation of Liability

RD Studio is not responsible for losses caused by third-party platforms, hosting issues, security breaches, or misuse of the website after delivery.

14. Agreement Acceptance

By approving the project and making payment, the client agrees to these Terms & Conditions.
